

THE SHIELD 1975

measuring 1974 - 5

FOREWORD

Will you remember your yesterdays tomorrow? Looking back is not easy. Often we forget what we once measured as very important. Think back—what will you remember from 1974-1975?

Perhaps it will be your early bird class—North Scott's new solution to crowded scheduling, or the novelty of the final bell ringing at 3:15 instead of 3:45.

Some may recall the naming of a new athletic director, and two new wrestling coaches. Others can ponder over the first year of a eight game girls' basketball schedule. Nearly all of us can relieve the pride of going undefeated in varsity football.

Those who return to North Scott may remember 1975 as the last year junior high crowded the halls. Students who found themselves involved in after school activities won't forget locked doors and hall gates at 3:30.

The record crowd for "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown", the National Honor Society Sock Hop, the pep aud that the football players' mothers came to . . . one of these things might be part of your memories.

I know that twenty-five years from now I will remember my frustration at senior math, the value of my space card, and my endless lists of "things to do." Most of all I will remember the unbelievably tough job of being a yearbook editor, because I feel I have accomplished something, and accomplishment makes every memory more vivid.

Between these covers we hope to have presented something for everyone to remember, so that each of us who spent the year at North Scott can measure his memories. If we have, then The Shield 1975 will have measured up to your expectations, and ours.

"Swing Circus 75" was presented March 14 and 15 by the music department, under the direction of Mr. Ardy McIntosh. For the first time, Swing Choir members were chosen from the whole student body, allowing more students to be involved.

Clowns, popcorn girls, a trampoline act, and an elephant helped to carry out the circus theme. "Nothing Can Stop Me Now" opened and closed the show, and the stage band and dancers performed "Corazon" and "Rockin' Horse." "Zoo Illogical" and "The Night Chicago Died" featured a stuffed animal setting and gangster costumes, respectively.

Several innovative ideas turned into highlights of the show. Fluorescent makeup and black light gave "Requiem for the Masses" a ghostly effect. A slide presentation accompanied "Annie's Song", and Jerry Geist and JoAnn Stansberry were soloists on "Amazing Grace". The cast and crew tried to live up to their advertisement of "the greatest show on earth".

A giraffe overlooks St. Bernards, bird cages, wild animals, little girls, and the Swing Chorus as they sing about one mongoose in "Zoo Illogical".

TRACK SQUAD WINS ALL RELAYS ENTERED

Spartan, Saber, Fulton, Gateway, Lancer, Illowa, Indian Champs

The North Scott varsity trackmen accomplished a remarkable feat by winning seven relays, including their third straight Illowa Conference Championship. The relays they won were the Spartan Relays, Saber Relays, Fulton Relays, Gateway Classic, Lancer Relays, and the Indian Relays. A strong group of seniors led to their impressive record in 1975.

Eleven members of the track squad qualified for the Drake Relays, and represented the school well.

Out of the District meet, North Scott's first year in Class 2A, the team finished sixth and qualified three people for State competition, Mike Fowler, Tom Keppy, and Scott

Carter. Mike Kuehl and Mike Fowler were selected as Most Valuable Tracksters, and Tom Luedke was voted Most Improved. There was a four-way tie for Honorary captains between Mike Fowler, Mike Kuehl, Scott Carter, and Kevin Jansen.

The Frosh-Soph team had a good record, also. The team won the Illowa conference meet and the Gateway Classic in Clinton. A few sophomores made the varsity team, and on many occasions Jerome Reed had the best time in the two mile. Tom Luedke finished fifth in scoring points, while Dan Glunz finished tenth. They raised up the hopes for future track teams.

GIRL TRACKSTERS BREAK SIXTEEN RECORDS

Bring home trophy from Camanche Relays: advance five to State

A neck-and-neck race involves Gwen Tombergs.

The North Scott girls' track team started to make a name for themselves in their 1975 season. After many returning team members got in shape, they started to show strong possibilities. Although they were victorious in only one of their season meets, they racked up considerable points against very competitive schools.

The team entered six relays during the season, and brought home the trophy from the Camanche Relays. They also placed second at Tipton, third at Durant, fourth at Northeast, sixth at Pleasant Valley, and ninth at the districts.

A victory at the District meet meant a trip to State in May for miler Lynn Schmidt, and 440 relay team Linda Auliff, Jane Pischke, Becky Graham, and Deb Bockwoldt. Linda, Lynn and Deb were also the year's Most Valuable Tracksters.

Coach Frank Wood's track squad broke sixteen records out of nineteen events, and tied one. "We came a long way," commented Coach Wood. "We've got a young team with only three graduating, and we should be able to start an excellent one next year."

A Lancer-related theme brought students to the Ramada Inn in Davenport on May 10, 1975. "Knights in White Satin" was presented by the Junior class for this year's Jr.-Sr. Prom. Couples danced to the music of the Helton Brothers from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. The juniors made brandy glass candles for romantic decorations, and green punch accompanied meatballs, barbecued beef, shrimp cocktail, and other hors d' oeuvres in the refreshment line.

Thursday, May 29, 1975 marked the end of an era for the seniors at North Scott. Commencement Exercises at 8:00 p.m. in the gym sent them on to a new part of life. Junior class president Pam Williams and her escort Gary Fischer brought the class in to the processional by the North Scott Band. Rev. Robert Crandall gave the Invocation and Benediction. Dave Calloway spoke about the past of the class, and Sue Baker gave her views of the future. Principal Edward Fischer presented students with honor pins. Superintendent Melvin Heiler presented the class to School Board President Mrs. Phyllis Heuer, who bestowed the diploma on each 1975 graduate.

SOFTBALL TEAM TO 12-5 MARK

*Close games make boys'
record less impressive*

A returning team of girls helped make a very impressive softball record during the summer of 1975. Having lost no graduates last year, Coaches Coffman and Johnson whipped a varsity and junior varsity team into shape in no time at all. The varsity ended their season July 16 with a 12-5 record, and met Pleasant Valley in their first Sectional game on July 19. Bennett was the only team to beat the girls twice, and another loss came from Clinton. Losses to DeWitt, and to Northeast, blamed mostly on errors, were avenged later in the season. The younger girls had three scheduled games, in preparation for next year's season.

Things didn't go as well for the varsity baseball players, however. The extra-inning games showed them one point losses to Camanche and Clinton St. Mary's, and other close games were losses to Durant, 3-2, and to Calamus 7-6. All the tight scores weren't against the Lancers, however. A 3-2 score brought them a victory over Northeast, and early in the season they ended a five game losing streak by taking Camanche 3-1, and beating DeWitt 18-13. Coach Nevenhoven and Coach Voelkel saw a 5-15 mark with two games remaining before tournament play against Assumption. They also brought home a second place from the Muscatine Tourney.

The Sophomore team ended their season 2-8. Both Bettendorf and Clinton handed them double losses. Their two victories came when they played Maquoketa, and they toppled DeWitt in a low scoring game, 2-1.

BOY, GIRL LINKSTERS HAVE SLOW SEASON

Tom Dittmer, Lisa Lau have low scores in Sectional competition

According to golf coaches Mr. Jim Nelson and Miss Karin Buehner, a slow start was a contributing factor toward the mediocre records of the Lancer golfers during the 1975 season. Sectional tournaments came around just as the teams began to improve.

Tom Dittmer, Steve Peters, Ross Mangels, Bruce Swanson, Steve Price, and Steve Campana composed the team that won several of the meets on their schedule, and placed second in a triangular meet. They failed to come through at Sectionals in May, however, as they placed last among the teams. Tom Dittmer had the low score for the team, an 81.

The girls fared a little better in their Sectionals, although their regular season mark was not as impressive. They placed sixth of seven teams, and Lisa Lau was a medalist with a 115 score on an 18-hole course. Competing with Lisa were Keri Nagle, Cindy Sperlach, Rita Cawiezell, Pat Geary, and Judy Meyer.

Fifty-four cheerleaders greeted the '74-'75 athletic season. For the first time different squads were chosen for each major sport.

New cheers, pom pom routines, techniques, and crowd control were some of the points taught at an all day clinic at Central College in Pella.

Cheerleaders were chosen on the basis of personality, voice control, cartwheels, round-offs, poise, and splits by local college representatives majoring in physical education or former cheerleaders.

To promote spirit, special signs were painted and skits were given. They also helped the eighth grade cheerleaders in their spare time. Miss Karin Buehner was their advisor.

FFA JUDGING TEAMS PLACE IN CONTESTS

Dairy team wins State Gold Emblem; Livestock first at District

Judging teams were the outstanding factor in the Future Farmers of America throughout the year. Both dairy and livestock judges did well, the dairy pulling a Gold Emblem at the State Contest in Waterloo, and being high Holstein team. Steve Otte, Gene Schwarz, and Sherry Newell made up the team. Ron Miller, Kevin Miller, Bob Braden, and Dennis Claussen were part of the team that tagged the District title in the summer livestock contest. At the National Barrow Show in October, Bob Braden was fourth individual, with Dennis Claussen ninth. Teams also participated in livestock judging at the National Hampshire Show, West Liberty Fair, and Tri County contest.

Tony Dexter, Cal Dirksen, Craig Gehrls, and Dan Boll attended the National FFA Convention in Kansas City in October, accompanied by FFA Advisor Keith Schmidt. Officers Bob Braden, Ron Miller, Randy Reimers, Brad Greve, and Dennis Claussen attended the District Leadership Camp.

Fruit sales, familiar from other years, was a main money making project for FFA. Cheese was added to the sales list in 1974. Much of the money was used to sponsor the Parent-Member banquet held in the spring, and other activities on the calendar.

FBLA ATTENDS CONVENTION

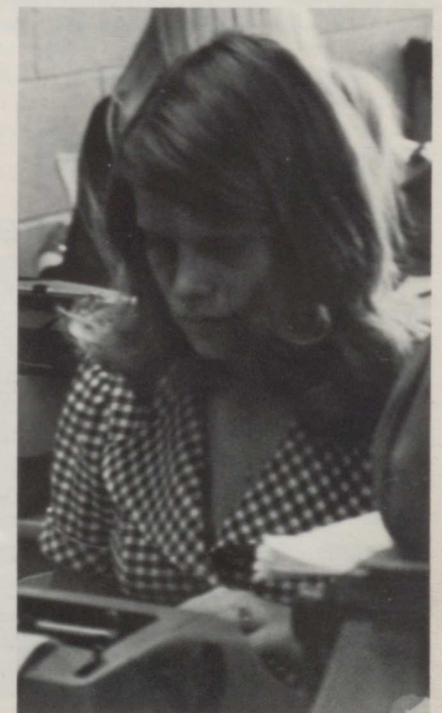

Participates in National Secretarial Week

Mrs. Connie Hanssen and Mrs. Carmene Granger led the Future Business Leaders of America through the year. In addition to holding monthly meetings, they attended the State FBLA Convention in Cedar Falls, made candy and gifts for hospitalized children, and took cookies and flowers to North Scott District secretaries during National Secretarial Week.

Pam Bradshaw glances up from a bookkeeping assignment.

FBLA president Connie Westphal types a letter in the workshop.

HENS PLAN SPRING TRIP

Schedule Xmas caroling, bowling parties

President Doris Robertson led the Home Economics of North Scott Club through an active year. They held a bowling party in October, went Christmas caroling in December, worked at concession stands for sports events, and made plans for a trip in May. Debbie Strobbe served as vice-president, Sheri Schnoor as reporter, and Sherrie Curtis as secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Glendena Heiman and Mrs. Delores Jespersen advised the group, which held monthly meetings in the commons.

NEW CONSTITUTION BECOMES SES PROJECT

Members set goal to help elementary and high school education

The North Scott students for Educational Service, or SES, set a goal this year of working to help elementary schools as well as the high school. Formerly known as Future Teachers of America and changing because of an excess of teachers, SES had the task of writing their constitution. Many of the ideas for it came from writing to other schools.

Fourteen students were members of the Future Nurses of America during the year. Their purpose was to bring together young people interested in nursing and health, and they had several activities. Tours included a visit to the Scott County Blood Bank, the Moline Lutheran Hospital, the Scott County General Health Care Facility, and the Kahl Home. A representative from the Lutheran School of Nursing in Moline was a guest speaker.

PEETERS' PROTEGES

Science Club led by J. Howell

Science Club started in October of 1974 by electing its officers John Howell, Geri McConnell and Deb Dunaway. Geared toward educational and recreational advancement, the club invited guest speakers such as the head of the Physics Department at Augustana College, who spoke on Relativity, to their meetings. The Science Club termed their activity "intuitively obvious."

For the first time in several years the Spanish club was rather large, enabling them to become involved in more activities. A National Foods Dinner was one of these activities, as was a Spanish style Christmas party.

Cindy Spurlock officiated at monthly meetings, while Dawn Sly, Lynne Fischer, Margaret Costello, Joe Fury, and Dave Kelly assisted through their offices.

A Japanese artist was one of Art Club's special features this year. She showed the group methods of Japanese painting and drawing. A trip to the St. Ambrose Fine Arts Building, the Marycrest Art Department, and the University of Northern Iowa's Art Fair were also on the calendar.

Art Club members were responsible for planning their own activities, including demonstrations of silk-screening, candle-making, ceramic molding, and other crafts at several meetings.

SCHOOL PROVIDES MEANS FOR MEASURING

1. Time at North Scott was shortened this year by a 3:15 bell. 2. Sherrie Curtis finds listening a key measure to her accomplishments. 3. Enjoyment: found in the middle of a Pep Band performance.

Nine months of the year a North Scott student could be found soaking up what is known as education. School provided a three hour occupation for those who took advantage of reduced loads, or a twelve hour one for those active in the play, track, swing show, or yearbook staff.

School presented its own unique code to follow. Time was portioned out in equal fifty and five minute intervals. Each student's schedule directed him to the right place at the right time. Days and students both were numbered for efficiency.

With so much time spent, the process of learning took on more aspects than just those in the classroom. Activities provided an outlet for the creativity and talent of students who made use of them. Learning a sport or an art was measured as important as learning mathematical induction or Shakespeare.

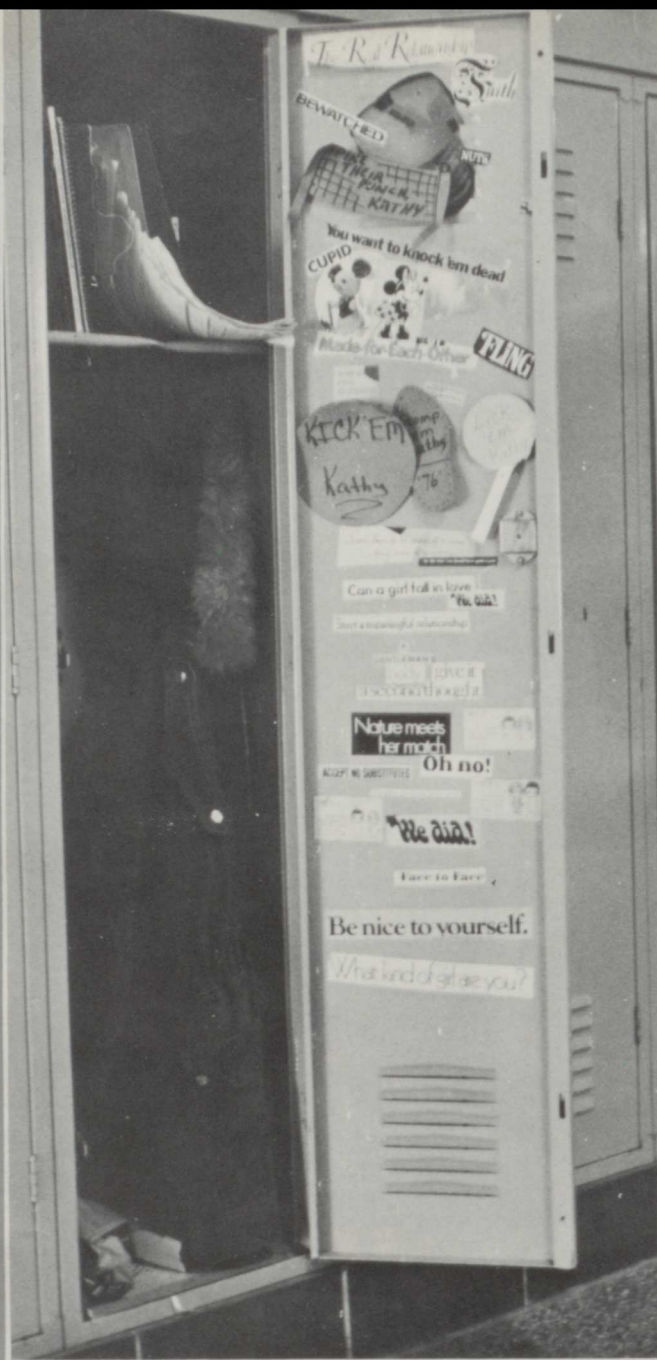

Whether a student found pleasure in activity or inactivity, concern or apathy, there was a place for him at North Scott.

1. Success, at least at the moment, is not so easy for Deonne Miller, Debbie Bockwoldt, Lisa Arp, Terri Dillon, Karen DeWulf, Sandy Arentson and Brenda Kaczinski. 2. Photographer John Howell caught Dawn Sly in a quiet time and setting. 3. Empty halls are very prevalent at 7:30 a.m., except for an occasional early bird student.

STUDENTS ADAPT TO

1. A locker number signifies home for nine months of the year. 2. Adaptation results in a collapse and a Pepsi for Gina Baustian. 3. The "L180" on Patti Geary's football jersey is typical of the many numbers used around the school.

BUDGETS AND BOND ISSUES

Many problems of administration in the high school, as well as the district, would soon be eased by the new jr. high, additions to Edward White and Alan Shepard elementaries, and the new school in Park View because we were one of the fastest growing districts in the state!

The North Scott Community School District School Board in session: Mr. Robert Carter, Mr. Ned Mohr, Vice President Mr. Dana Danforth, Secretary Mrs. Alice Mae Wiese, President Mrs. Phyllis Heuer, Superintendent Mr.

SHOPS AND SEAMS

Two new faces joined the Practical Arts department this year. Mr. Dennis Johnson joined the ranks as Driver's Education instructor. Mr. Dale Lacina taught Industrial Arts I, Power Mechanics, and helped out with the Drivers' Education chores. Mr. Johnson and Mr. Lacina served dual roles as they also were assistant wrestling coach and assistant girls' basketball coach, respectively.

SCHEDULES, CREDITS, AND CONFERENCES

Students waiting in line to see the three Guidance counselors were not uncommon throughout the year, but the addition of Miss Savory to the staff helped out considerably.

Seniors faced a moment of panic when it was announced that guidance classes would be held second quarter. The program was a new one in which the counselors could help students with their future plans.

SCALES AND BRUSHES

The Fine Arts department at North Scott contained instrumental and vocal music, along with art classes. Both music departments kept busy with concert and contest schedules, in addition to Swing Show. Daily rehearsals and lessons filled up spare time.

An art teacher from the Lend-A-Hand in Davenport was one of the features in Art classes. Her paintings were put on exhibition in the Art room. North Scott student work decorated the library during the year. A sampling of the many art projects attempted were also visible in the art room window for other students to view.

EXERCISE AND ASPIRIN

High school Physical Education classes this year covered sports as well as weight control, self-defense, and first aid, in accordance with the Health sector of the department, which Mrs. Stamer was in charge of. Co-ed volleyball was a successful venture in freshman and sophomore gym classes. Other co-ed activities were kept in mind throughout the year and for later years.

The North Scott Social Studies Department ranged from the required American History for Sophomores to American Government for Seniors, Sociology, Minority Groups, Western Civilization and Area Cultures. Assimilation games were popular because teachers felt that the students could use their knowledge to solve problems presented to them.

Early Bird government added to Mr. Agosta's schedule made early morning lectures familiar to some seniors. Another development was the department policy that all makeup tests would be in an essay form and taken after school hours.

A lecture by Mr. Lake brings out government principles.

A new teacher came to the Math department in 1974. Mr. Roger Kirby took Algebra I and General Math classes under his wing, in addition to becoming head wrestling coach.

The school's calculation department, covering General Math, Algebra I and II, Geometry, and Senior Math, used several different teaching aids. One of these was the computer that inhabited the senior Math classroom. Mr. Voelkel taught seniors about the use of the machine, and developed a unit of computer, which the seniors took advantage of during free time.

THEOREMS AND FIGURES

General Math students learn new functions from Mr. Kirby.

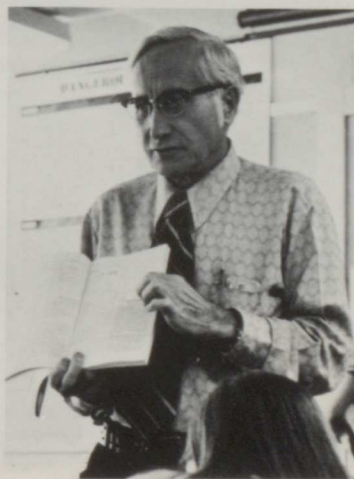

EXPERIMENTS, FORMULAS, AND CHEMICALS

Students enrolled in Science courses throughout the year were subject to varied activities. A bit of traveling took place also. Ecology classes attended a seminar in Platteville, Wisconsin in the fall, and Missouri proved to be a place to collect biological specimens over Easter in Advanced Biology. Other Science classes also used extracurricular involvement.

During the summer of 1974 the English Department spent several weeks writing and revamping their curriculum. All of the major English courses were given a fresh look with the latest in innovations and concepts. Freshman and Sophomore classes were correlated to produce more interesting units including media, ethnic literature and science fiction.

Mrs. Jan Schmidt was a welcome addition to the English department as a teacher's aide. All of the members of the department used Mrs. Schmidt to do many things that relieved them to meet with students and prepare lessons.

With class sizes continuing to grow, this department serviced more students than any other at North Scott.

LANCERS WIN CONFERENCE GRIDIRON TITLE

"This is North Scott's finest hour," proclaims Coach Larry Lake

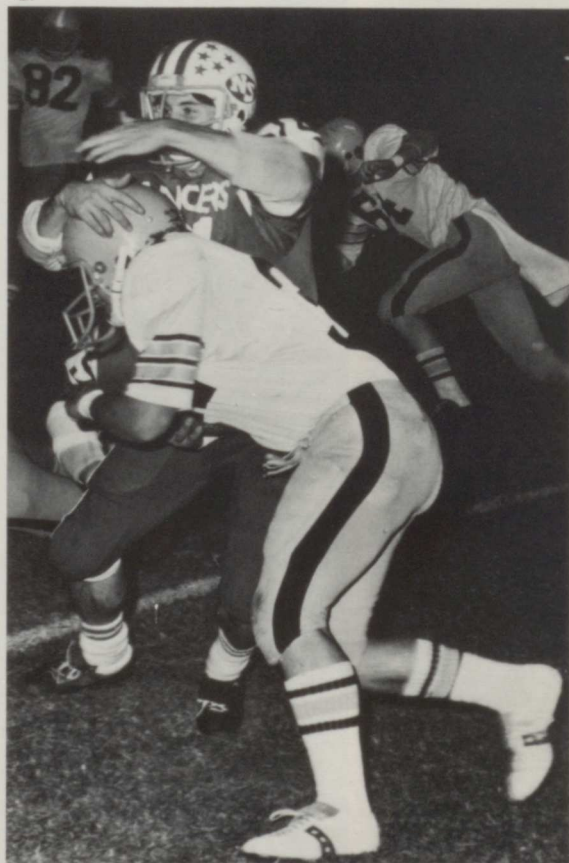

The 1974 North Scott football team was the first in the school's seventeen year history to win their conference championship. Not only did they win the conference in its final year of existence, but they were the only undefeated Class AAA team in the state. The Lancer offense was number one in the Quad-City area and their defense was also number one.

Team members Tom Kunde, Kevin Jansen, Randy Hamilton, Allan Ward, Keith Jansen, Mike Kuehl, and Mike Fowler were elected to the All-Illowa first team. Kevin Jansen was also voted to the state's Honorable Mention team.

The Lancers played their first conference game against Clinton St. Mary's with a 2-0 record. It was the first home game and it proved to be quite a tussle for the Lancers. A close first half gave way to a second half, as the Lancers began to take their toll against the Irish. They went on to win that game and through the season the Big Red Football Machine kept rolling.

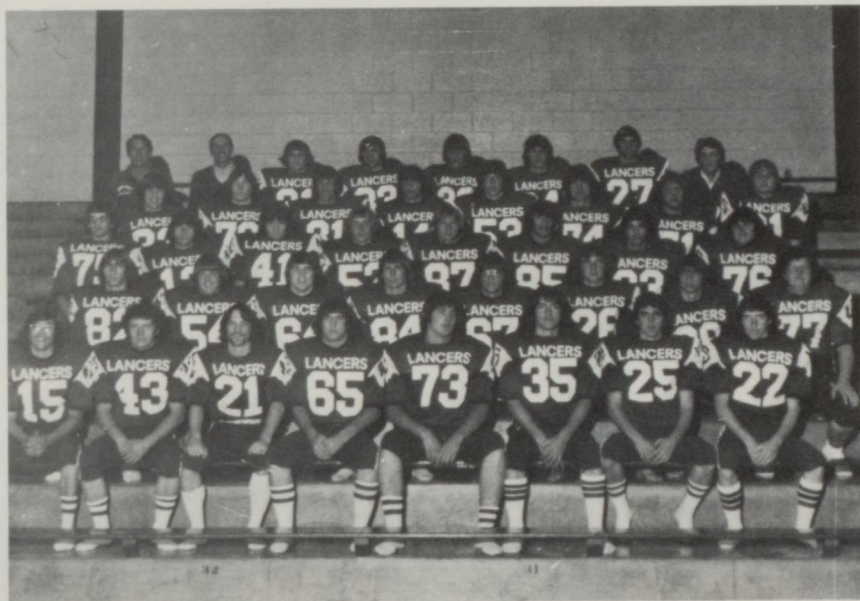

The Lancer machine was ready to play any post-season game that they could, but on a final vote of the state officials, the Lancers came up short of making the state playoffs. Although the season ended on a sour note, Lancer fans could remember the season for many years to come.

LUEDTKE, MOHR LEAD TEAMS TO VICTORIES

The Sophomore Championship Trophy evaded the young Lancers by one half of a football game. The Sophomore team went through their first five games letting no one come close to them in scoring, but a road game to Morrison was costly. Coach Ryan and Coach Brown's little Lancers' attack broke down and the game ended in a tie. In the final game at DeWitt, a victory would have given the Conference trophy a trip back to Eldridge for the fourth consecutive year, but a strong DeWitt team brought the Lancers their only defeat. The Sophs ended up with a 7-1-1 record.

The Freshman squad, under the direction of Coach Donald Scott and Coach Dennis Frey, worked to decisive victories in their first two outings, but the latter of the season went downhill for them as they ended with a 2-7 record. The team was hopeful as they looked toward the next season to improve their record.

Varsity Squads Defeated Bettendorf, Lincoln, and Northeast

A competitive volleyball team was produced this year from thirty-eight interested girls.

A Freshman squad was organized for the first time, involving twenty girls. The Varsity and Junior Varsity squads showed strong team work and offensive techniques by using blocks and spikes in defeating Northeast, Lincoln, and Bettendorf.

Volleyball squad members elected Gina Baustian Captain on the Varsity level.

The archery girls spent their Monday and Wednesday afternoons, in the fall, improving their skills at target practice. During the practices held at the Ernest Jansen farm South of Eldridge, they competed among themselves for top scores. Miss Karin Buehner was their coach.

The Mr. Pin Head Trophy remained at North Scott for the '74-'75 bowling season.

Wednesday evening was spent by approximately thirty girls at Maysville Bowling Lanes. Competition between themselves, recreational fun, and individual instruction from their advisor Miss Karin Buehner were the goals of the team.

The traveling Mr. Pin Head award resided at North Scott for another year, going unchallenged.

Top scorers for the team were: LuAnn Paustian, Joyce Zabel, and Judy Burmeister.

CAGERS MID-SEASON SLUMP

Illowa Conference proves to be rough going

The Lancer Varsity Basketball team set out with hopes of accomplishing what no other Lancer team ever had—an undefeated season and an Illowa Conference Championship with a shot at the Iowa Basketball Crown.

The year began on the right track as the Lancers came out the winner over a tough Bettendorf team. The next game came a week later when they traveled to Camanche and made their record 2-0.

The home season opened up against arch rival DeWitt Central. After a close first half, the Lancers brought the Sabers down to defeat. The team racked up ninety-five points at Sterling to win and moved their record to 4-0 over-all and 2-0 in the conference. The next night was a home game against conference co-leader Riverdale. After a slow start, it looked as though the Lancers would come back, but the charge was late and the Rams gave the Lancers their first loss. After that game, the Lancers picked up two quick wins over Morrison and Savanna.

LOST PLAYERS HURT SOPHS

A ride to Fulton was a chance to beat the Steamers for the first time on their court, but things didn't work from the start and the Lancers took their second defeat in eight outings. The next week brought league leader St. Mary's into the "pit." The Lancers needed a win, but the Irish over-powered them to give them their second defeat in a row. The Lancers tightened up and won three in a row before losing to Riverdale again. Then they won three more, including a convincing defeat over Fulton. Next came a rematch with St. Mary's as the Lancers fired up, but that wasn't enough, as the Irish once again defeated the Lancers. They finished the conference in third place with a record of 9-5.

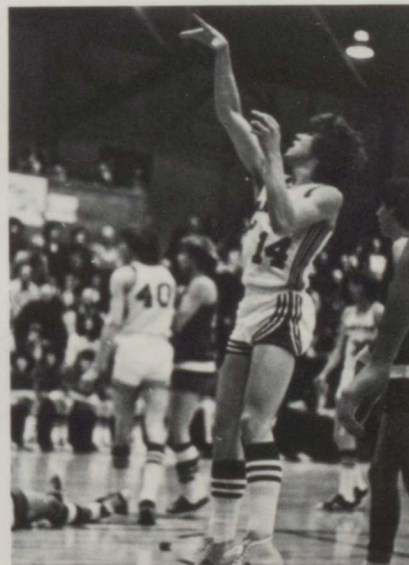

In the final game against Assumption, a first half slump and bad free throw shooting hampered the Lancers and they finished at 12-6 going into tournament play, where Dubuque Senior stopped their attempt to advance.

The sophomores saw a bright early season, winning nearly every one of their games, but as a few players moved away, the sophs didn't fare as well as expected. They finished at an even 9-9.

Some very promising players showed up on the freshman squad. Their season started off on a good note and they went on to mark up an impressive 11-5 record.

The girls' varsity basketball team began their first season by taking second place in the Mount St. Claire tourney. The girls then went on to beat Wilton before falling on the short end to Pleasant Valley and Assumption. St. Mary's became the next victim of the Lancers as Lynn Schmidt scored a record 41 points. The Clinton girls came on to beat the Lancers, but they ended their season mark at 4-4, by beating Camanche in their last game. Coach Frank Wood commented on the team as being a "young team with great desire and hustle."

The JV girls showed a lot of dedication to the game despite an 0-6 record. The young team, coached by Dale Lacina, had high hopes for next season.

NEW COACHES LEAD LANCERS TO 9-1-1 MARK

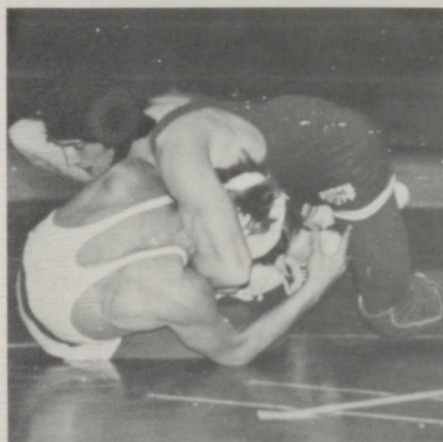

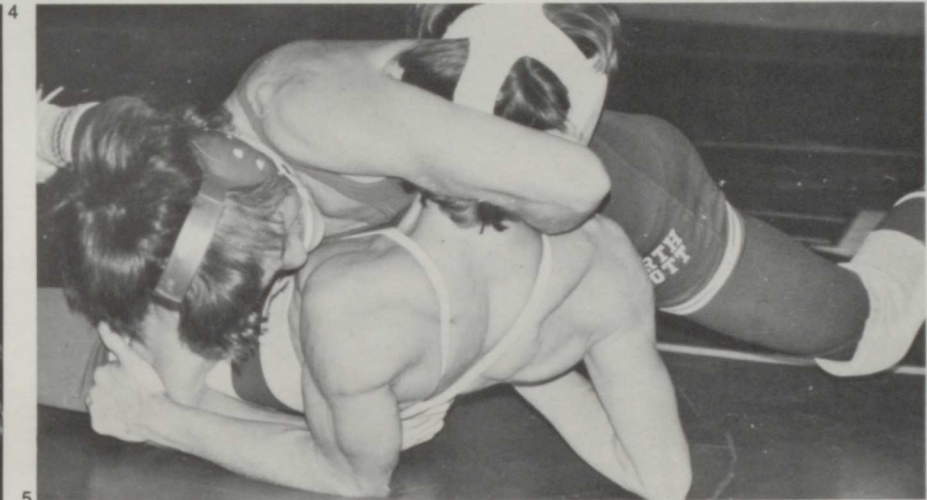

Goodin, Claussen, Lage, Fowler wrestle in district competition

The opening of the 1974-75 varsity wrestling season was also the debut of two new coaches, Mr. Roger Kirby and Mr. Dennis Johnson. In spite of high hopes, it turned sour as the grapplers lost to Pleasant Valley 24-19. But the next meet was the proving grounds for North Scott as they met up with a tough Davenport West squad. The result was a tie. The team went on to win four other duals before entering its first tournament at DeWitt. Highly rated Lisbon won the meet with the Lancers in second. An easy dual win was a tune up for the North Scott Invitational. The matmen proved to be a good host, winning the tournament very handily. The Lancers traveled to Maquoketa for a match before the Pleasant Valley tournament where again the Big Red Wrestling Machine became champions. The Lancers had three meets to prepare for the Illowa tournament in Sterling which they won. The Lancers closed out the season with a record of 9-1-1 and won three out of four tournaments. The Lancers then prepared for State competition as they traveled to Cedar Rapids for the sectional tournament. There the Lancers ran into stiff competition. Only Jim Goodin, Dennis Claussen, Randy Lage, and Mike Fowler advanced to district competition. At district the Lancers were outclassed as none of the four advanced.

Mr. Dennis Johnson coached the J.V. wrestlers to a 10-1 mark. Two tournaments were on the schedule, and they won the Camanche competition.

This year marching band spent many hours to prepare for their quite different halftime shows.

Usually the band uses a marching style that requires marching in squads of four, with all four people marching as a unit, but in their Homecoming show, the band took on a new look. Individualized marching, where there are no squads and each person has his own routine to do, gave the band the many new maneuvers.

Themes for the shows included "Hits By The Beatles," "Let Us Entertain You," and "Salute to Broadway" which was directed by Mr. Gary Cicotelli, student teacher.

The last home football game brought the University of Illinois marching band to perform the pre-game and halftime shows. The band members hosted the Illini for the evening.

This year brought a "bigger and better" high school band with many new events added to the schedule.

All-State auditions, stage band rehearsals, and paper drives kept many band members busy during September and October.

November found Janis Dengler, Sue Baker, Debbie Swanson, Brian Cox, and Bill Mohr in Des Moines for the All-State Music concert. Bad weather prevented many North Scott spectators from attending the concert.

Concert band, stage band, and pep band performed during December and January. The concert band also applied for the chance to perform at the Iowa Bandmasters' Convention in Des Moines.

February, March, and April brought band festivals, solo contest, and Swing Show to almost every band member.

New to the schedule was a "Pops Concert" held on May 21, which provided the community with music for all ages, followed by an ice cream social sponsored by the Music Boosters. The year ended with State Band Contest and Commencement.

Senior band members had a year of planning and raising money for their trip to Florida the first week in June.

Vandalism was at a peak this year as many instruments were damaged or stolen. Money was raised to help pay for these damages as well as music and contest fees through candy, fruitcake, and wreath sales, and paper drives.

The North Scott choral groups and their director Mr. Jerrold Easler began a busy year in September. Many events involved all of the Singers, but a few affected only several members. Four quartets tried out for the All-State Chorus, and several members attended the Dorian, three the Tall Corn Festival. During their schedule they performed on television, and KSTT and WOC presented them to the public Christmas Eve night. The yearly Swing Show was held March 14 and 15.

EDITOR BEV CALLOWAY HEADS VOLUME 16

Staffers tour North Scott press offices; attend press conference

Editor Bev Calloway's Lance staff, which published 30 issues of Volume 16, worked on polishing its writing and reporting on topics outside school affecting students.

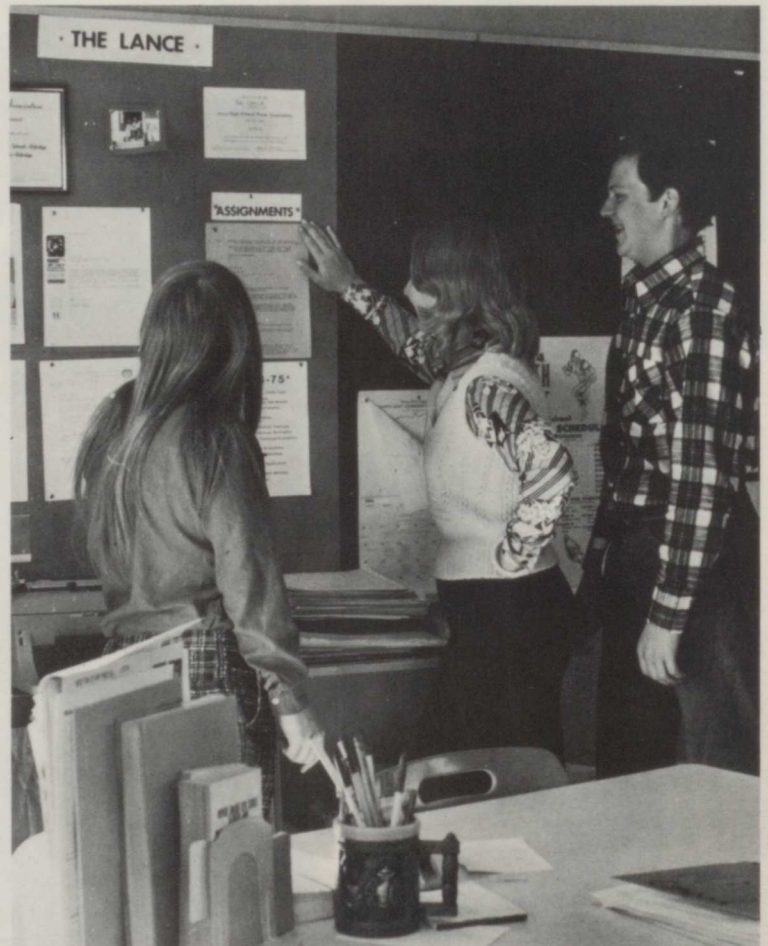

Bev was assisted by Dawn Sly, while Gary Fischer handled business correspondence and advertising. Kim Summers was a big help in all areas of newspaper production as was Shellee Littell. Lisa Lau, Steve Campana, and Dave Kelley returned to the staff, while Rose Missfeldt, Carol Shippey, Jerry Geist and Sue Boeding were new additions. Freshmen Anne Kuehl and Tammy Simkins provided more writing. Jeff Jansen covered varsity football and John Howell enlivened the Lance pages with photographs. Rhonda Staggs' style showed up in Lance cartoons.

Dawn's "On the Sly" column and "News Briefs", edited by Cindy Rathmann and Shelia Stidham, were popular additions.

During first semester, the Lance studied Davenport's Voluntary Action agency, the work of a Davenport policeman, and area child abuse. In November staffers Sue Boeding, Gary Fischer, and Kim Summers attended a press conference given by Peter Rodino, House Judiciary Committee Chairman.

Staffers learned more about journalism by visiting the North Scott Press offices, Eastern Iowa Printing's newspaper operation, WOC, the University of Iowa School of Journalism, and a workshop at the Iowa High School Press Association Convention in Des Moines.

Editor Bev Calloway checks assignments with Dawn Sly and Gary Fischer.

John Howell tries to explain his photographing techniques to Shield advisor, Mr. Len Cockman and Lance advisor, Mr. Gene Conrad.

Dawn Sly gives assistance in helping Lance staffers Kim Summers and Shellee Littell draw layouts.

Sue Boeding, Lisa Lau, Mr. Gene Conrad, Shellee Littell, Anne Kuehl, Kim Summers, Carol Shippey and Dawn Sly at the State Capitol during the IHSPA convention in Des Moines.

Rose Missfeldt discusses journalism with Rhonda Staggs, Lisa Lau, Cindy Rathmann, Sue Boeding, Anne Kuehl, Cassie Green, and Dave Kelley.

Lori Klever, Bev Calloway, and Gail Husen run dittos on the duplicator.

Pam Seligman receives a job from a teacher.

WORKSHOP AIDS TEACHERS

Girls type tests, programs, and letters

The workshop girls, headed by Mrs. Carmene Granger, took on the responsibility of helping the teachers with their work. The girls did such jobs as duplicating tests, programs, newspaper articles, letters, and registration cards. Tickets for various school events were also done in the workshop.

While doing jobs in the workshop, girls developed secretarial skills such as typing that will be helpful to them in future jobs.

LIBRARY TO BISECT FOR NEW JUNIOR HIGH

Helpers take responsibility of checking out books, printing signs

Mr. Quentin Coffman, Sandy Schulz, Joni Graham, Shellee Saladino, Wendy Little.

Library workers were a group of students who volunteered their free time to do such jobs as cleaning the library, shelving, repair, and check out books, prepare new books, process magazines, and take care of the everyday functions of the library. They also took on the responsibility of printing signs. The library helpers added a new look to the walls of a conference room with a painting of the seven dwarfs.

This year the library began to make plans for the dividing of books that will be placed in the new junior high when it is completed.

AID COMES FROM STUDENTS

Spare time spent as teachers' helpers

Several teachers at North Scott found help very easy to come by, due to the fact that many students were willing to donate time to check papers, oversee labs, etc. Mr. Brown, Mr. Logan, Mr. Peeters, and Mr. Fox all took on assistants in the Science Department, while Mr. McCoy found an assistant for his Math classes. The helpers made their services very valuable to teachers.

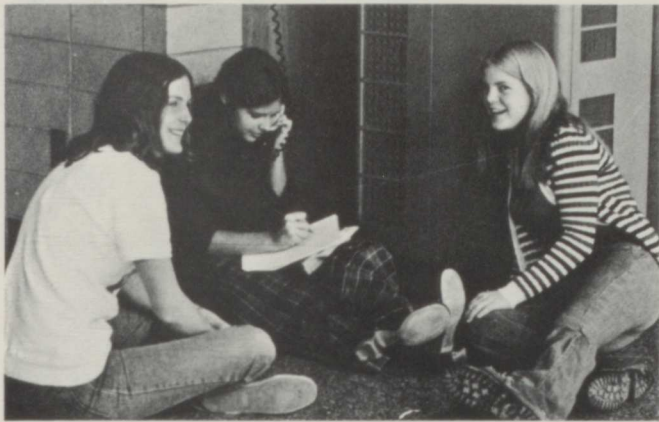

Lynn Schmidt assists Mr. McCoy.

Free time a reality for card carriers

The true meaning of "free" time became known to many North Scott students through the SPACE Program. The Student Program in Achievement, Citizenship, and Education offered the use of the commons with its new yellow furniture, the library or empty rooms, or the cafeteria and its candy and pop machines to satisfy empty stomachs while studying.

Julie Albrecht uses a hard-to-find empty room.

SENIOR CLASS LEAVES NS MAY 29, 1975

Marks calendar for Twenty-Fifth Reunion in year 2000

With the arrival of the year 1975, the Senior Class of North Scott saw the end of their high school life and with that year the class experienced a feeling of "this is the last time for . . ."

We faced the last football championship in the Illowa Conference, the last basketball season with Mike Kuehl, and our last Lancer Invationals for wrestling and track.

It was the last time Dale Cox could pretend he was a dog and Joe Schadt could play Elvis the Pelvis in Swing Show. Marching band, pep band, spring concerts, and solo contest for both instrumental and vocal music came to an end.

It was the last time we celebrated a victorious Homecoming, dressed up and came to school on a Saturday night for Bachelor Capture and Prom.

Seniors said good-bye to quicke lunches at Mr. Mac's, detentions with Mr. Agosta, "time sure does go fast when you're doing something you enjoy" by Mr. Benjamin, and Mr. Fox's jokes.

1974-1975 was the last year Sue Baker could make All-State, the volleyball girls could lose another game, Ross Modler could skip early bird, Kathi Hentrich could play piano for Charlie Brown, the band members could ride home from contest with Pete Huffman gazing at the stars and moon, Kathy Ehrecke could make snide remarks in Advanced Biology, the wrestlers could starve over Christmas, Steve Campana could be the shortest basketball player, John Howell could lock himself in the dark room, Julie Albrecht could massacre Pomp and Circumstance, Janice and Joyce Zabel could be asked if they really are twins, Tom Dittmer could become a radio celebrity.

Senior year also brought many things for the first time: Senior week and Senior tests, Commencement, and of course the Senior picnic.

This was the year of the end, and a beginning of a new way of life. Although many futures laid in uncertainty one thing was for sure: friendships and acquaintances made became part of our school memories.

BUTTONS IDENTIFY BICENTENNIAL CLASS

Red and Gray "76" Pin Worn by Enthusiastic Junior Class Members

Our country is moving in expectancy toward the bicentennial in 1976. The Juniors feel this too and are responding in a variety of ways.

The class officers and sponsors, Mr. Jack Dudley and Mrs. Delores Jespersen, scheduled activities such as a roller skating party, rummage sale, car wash, and bake sales to finance Prom. "Spirit of '76" class buttons were rewards to those who paid class dues.

Eleven took advantage of the opportunity to graduate early, leaving the juniors behind. Expectancy indeed describes how some juniors feel about "76".

SOPHOMORES RAFFLE T.V., TAPE RECORDER; Class members' competition to sell most tickets result in six

Our sophomore year was special. The rummage sale and fall raffle for a TV, tape recorder, and radio at the October 25 football game showed that the Sophomore Class could really "get it together" to raise money for Bachelor Capture. Mike Oelerich won the five dollar prize for selling the most raffle tickets.

"The Ram Who Stole Homecoming" was the sophomores' contribution to Homecoming activities. Lynn Schmidt, Denise Albrecht, Shellee Littell, Dawn Sly, and numerous others made the skit authentic.

The largest class ever to hit North Scott High came this year when 242 Freshmen invaded the high school.

The responsibility of putting on the Homecoming Dance was delegated to the Class of '78 and their sponsor Mr. Gene Conrad. This included taking care of decorations, providing the food, and cleaning up after. Freshmen committees created a spear-guarded entrance and castle on the west wall for the royal court. Homecoming chairman Mrs. Linda McClurg said, "The Freshmen had a limited budget and the decorations were fantastic!"

The Freshman class, with the help of advisors Mr. Dale Lacina and Mr. Bill McCoy, won the first Spirit Award at Skit Night with their skit entitled "Lancer Insight of the Week." It was written by Margo Downs, Joan Levsen and many willing members of the Class of '78.

With Homecoming as the biggest class project of the year, the Freshmen looked for ways to be counted and get through the first of four.

Hilda Zollitsch was our 17 year-old International Cultural Exchange student from Gothenborg, Sweden. Hilda lived with the Judson Awkermanns while in Eldridge.

A native of southwestern Sweden, Hilda's father is an architect and her mother is a teacher. Her fifteen year-old brother enjoys skiing in the Swedish countryside.

While at North Scott, Hilda enrolled in five subjects which she thought were few to the required sixteen in Sweden.

VISITORS COME FROM ARGENTINA AND SWEDEN

Marcelo Drab and Hilda Zollitsch study America as Lancers

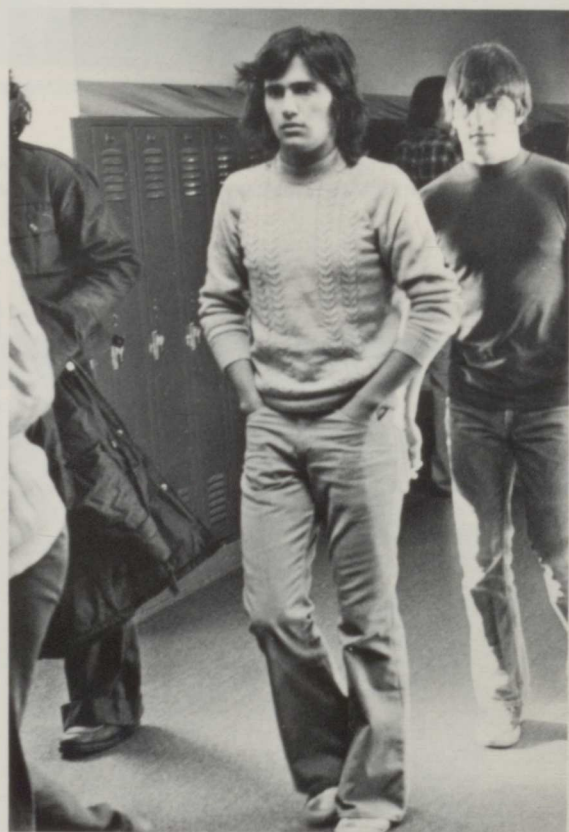

Marcelo Drab was our 17 year-old International Cultural Exchange student from the province Neupuen, Plaza Huincul, Argentina. Marcelo lived with the Joseph Boire family while in Eldridge.

Marcelo has a fifteen year-old brother still at home with his father, who works for an oil company, and his mother, a school teacher.

The chilly Iowa winter was quite a change from the summer Argentina Marcelo left behind. His favorite sport there was soccer, which is as popular there as football is here.

While at North Scott, Marcelo counted his pocket dictionary as a constant companion.

The problem of raising money was met very successfully by Honor Society this year. Their innovation was a Sock Hop held on September 20 after a football game. Music from the 50's, a bubble gum blowing contest, cake walk, dance contest, and jail helped NHS to raise over $400.

NHS members celebrated Christmas on December 23 with a bowling party, gag gift exchange and progressive dinner compliments of several members.

Twenty-four members were honored at the annual banquet on February 5. Officers this year were Larry Wilford, president; John Grant, vice-president; Deb Dunaway, secretary; and Mike Boeding, treasurer.

400 signatures needed to reopen machines

Making SPACE students more responsible was the main goal of the SPACE Council this year. SPACE Council representatives passed around petitions for SPACE members to sign. Their signature on the petition committed them to help keep the commons area clean. A total of 400 signatures were needed before the pop and candy machines would be opened. SPACE Council consisted of five student members and six faculty members.

Headed by President Kevin Jansen and the other officers Jill Engel, Vice-President; Pat Green, Secretary; and Karen Winslow, Treasurer, Student Congress began the year by getting ready for Homecoming. Student Congress arranged the Homecoming and, halftime ceremonies at the football game, selected and sold badges, and selected a band. New additions to Homecoming week were the "Red and Gray" day, and skit night held instead of the traditional snake dance.

Throughout the year Student Congress was in charge of class officer elections, acted as student guides at open house, and also took care of any problems around the school that were brought to them. At Christmas time Student Congress sponsored a needy family in the area, asking students to donate clothing and canned goods. They also took the responsibility of getting and decorating the Christmas tree for the commons. In the spring, money was collected for Muscular Dystrophy.

In addition to their profits from Homecoming badge sales, Student Congress raised money by working at the concession stand at a football and basketball game.

Faculty advisors for Student Congress were Mrs. Linda McClurg and Miss Janet Proescholdt.

ALL ONE RATINGS AND IHSSA OUTSTANDING

accorded to Sherry, Chuck, Lisa, Mike, Pat, Dale from CHUCK ALLAMAN as Don Baker and SHERRY NEWELL as Jill Tanner from Leonard Gershe's BUTTERFLIES ARE FREE.

MIKE CLAUSSEN as Jonathan and LISA LAU as Rosalie from Arthur Kopit's OH, DAD, POOR DAD, MOMMA'S HUNG YOU IN THE CLOSET AND I'M FEELING SO SAD.

On Saturday, January 25 the Iowa High School Speech Association held its District Large Group Contest in Monticello, Iowa. North Scott entered three duet acting groups. Sherry Newell and Chuck Allaman entered a cutting about a blind young man and his encounter with his next door neighbor, a young divorcee. Lisa Lau and Mike Claussen's entry portrayed a young man whose nerves make him stutter and his meeting with a young babysitter from the next apartment building. Pat Green and Dale Cox brought the famous characters of Adam and Eve to life through the satiric eyes of Mark Twain. They all earned Division I ratings and the right to go on to State Contest at Muscatine on February 8, 1975. There they received unanimous Division I ratings for their performances. Their plaques and awards were a welcome addition to our trophy case.

DISTRICT TO STATE for Sherrie and Pam

On March 1 the Individual District Contest was held in Clinton. Entered in Prose Interp. were Sherrie Curtis doing Shirley Jackson's "Of Course," Gwen Tombergs reading Morley Callahan's "All the Years of Her Life," and Sheryl Underwood doing Farmer's "King of the Beasts." In Poetry Interp. were Brenda Madden giving Lord Byron's "The Prisoner of Chillon" and Margaret Costello who interpreted her own poetry. In Humorous Acting were Pam Williams who gave Mill's "There Must Be Some Trick To This," and Julie Thorton did Blume's "Are You There, God? This is Margaret." Dave Kelley entered in Extemporaneous Speaking. Both Pam and Sherrie earned Division I ratings and went on to the State Contest in Ottumwa on March 22.

PERFORMERS AWARDS judges for duet acting cuttings

PAT GREEN as Eve and DALE COX as Adam from Mark Twain's THE DIARY OF ADAM AND EVE

The highest honor the IHSSA can award contestants is the Outstanding Performers' Award. Of the 72 duet acting entries at Muscatine only 6 were given by the judges. Three were awarded to North Scott's entries, and we were the only school in the state to be honored with three!

New ideas for arousing spirit brought Homecoming week to North Scott in full color. Tuesday was declared Red and Gray and Hat Day by Student Congress, and a vast assortment of beanies, helmets and feathers appeared on top of red and gray clad bodies.

A skit contest held on Thursday night replaced the sheet contest of past years. "Lancer Insight of the Week" won the class of '78 the Homecoming Spirit trophy.

Newly crowned Queen Joni Hamilton knighted Lancer co-captains at the close of the Homecoming Aud, October 17. With no school on Friday, the Lancer teams fired up to mark a victory in 1974. The victory dance on October 19 ended Homecoming with celebration.

1973 Queen Mary Ann Schwarz crowns Joni Hamilton the 1974 Homecoming Queen.

Although February 15 was a wintery day, "Seasons in the Sun" came to North Scott via the Sophomore class. The proceeds of their money-making activities went toward the production of Bachelor Capture '75.

Untraditionally, the crowning of the BC King took place at a special aud on Friday, February 14. The King and his court reigned over Saturday evening's dance. The Sophomores honored the Top Ten with display cases boasting pictures and possessions of each of them and decked the Commons in yellow and green. The court was presented and the Top Five couples shared the dance floor with their parents. "Trade Winds" played music for those in attendance while freshmen served punch and hor d'oeuvres.

AFTERWORD

When a person looks back at some years, there isn't much to remember. Usually it is the person's own fault if he doesn't look through this book and remember things and people. We hope this isn't you, and you can look back with us over this past year and know you gained something you can never get again, and most importantly you can build on this year for the future.

While other schools talked of "cutting back" on programs, North Scott's increased. Girls' sports participation and schedules grew, as did the crowds in our "pit." While other schools' enrollments dropped, ours hit an all time high of seven hundred and ninety four.

Some called it a "slack in the economy," others named it a "recession," and still others a "little depression." In Scott County we had a lot to be thankful for. Many other parts of the country were in a much worse economic situation. Most NS students looking for a part-time job were able to find one.

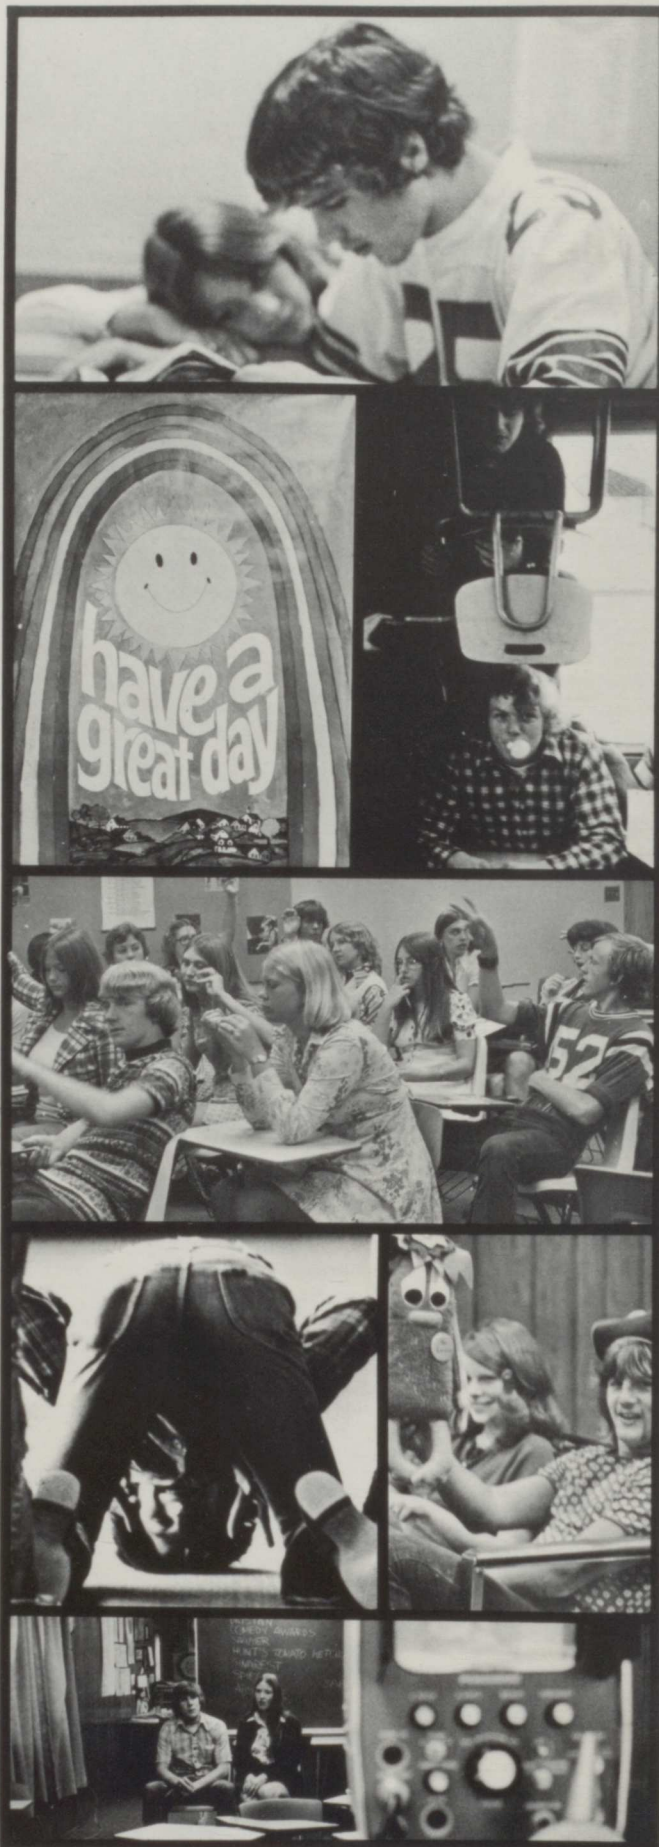

The resignation of President Richard M. Nixon was an important part of the picture in world-wide 1974-5. President Gerald Ford had a "better idea," at least that is the way the jokes went. Most Americans had very strong political feelings during this year.

As we studied and worked, and fooled around, our world was basically sound and secure at North Scott High. We were concerned with winning basketball games, getting a passing grade in that test, and Saturday night. We were concerned with the burns to be run at basketball practice, getting to work on time, the music contest on Saturday, the flat tire in the parking lot, and SPACE cards.

Most people will remember unusual things that they were involved in. Randy Goetsch will remember the $100 US Savings Bond he won in the Caterpillar Company's poster contest. John Howell will remember being awarded the Bausch and Lomb Science Award. Cyndi Siemsen will remember being a finalist in the 1975 Administrative Management Society Business Show Queen Program. Barbara Claeys will remember winning the Betty Crocker Award, and Greg Smelser will remember the "Mr. Leggs" Contest.

We can all remember Olivia Newton-John, Robert Redford, starburgers, the money lost in the candy machine, and the last day of school.

Some memories are sad, and others are happy. Some are worth keeping, while others are not. We hope this book will help you make your choice of memories you want to keep of 1974-5. Forever.

O YOUTH!

O Youth, who stand on the threshold of life, with no black stain to mar, no grey doubts to make afraid, no blemish to weaken, our highest hopes are centered upon you! Out of our love you were born, by our devotion you were nourished, and in our hearts you are the blessed tyrant. For some of you adulthood has come with its magic lure leading onward over uncharted seas; while for others the distant gates are only ajar thru which the enticing gleam sends its bewitching rays. How we envy you! How we would protect you—if we could! O forget not that the world is still a land of dreams! Keep the cold chill of cynicism from your hearts: Laugh always, but never ridicule! Play much, but never be indolent; fight hard, but never injure; hate evil, but love the truth always; dream often, but never become drowsy; participate enthusiastically, but never indulge. Let your imagination beat against the stars; for no horizon is too far for your winged feet, and no adventure is too perilous for your boundless courage. Thus we realize in you what we have failed to attain within ourselves; and you shall be for us God's great second chance—new builders of a better tomorrow.
